

My first thought when thinking about shmups was galatica. When I started to think about a remix idea, I'm not sure why but the wildfires was the first thing that came to mind for inspiration. I decided that I could have the wildfires spreading towards me that I have to shoot with water bullets. Also, when a fire gets really hot it pops, that's where the shooting would come from, is the fire "popping". Also as a player you can fill buckets of water on the top of the screen, that when filled will empty onto the screen, clearing part of it.
